When the system is noticeably fouled, add this product at the rate of 0.0019 to 1.92 lb per ton of pulp or paper produced. Add directly to the additive system at the rate of 0.0096 to 7.97 lb per ton of pulp produced. Continuous feed method—Uniformly mixed.

Intermittent or slug method—Add this product directly to the material to be preserved prior to manufacturing into the finished product, i.e. pulp, alum, chlorine, sodium hypochlorite, phosphates, sodium carbonate, and paper products. This product is used to inhibit fungal growth which causes discoloration, odor and degradation in paper and paperboard. This product is not cleared for use in the manufacture of paper and paperboard products that come in contact with food.

Product not registered for this use in California - (Optional) This product is used to inhibit fungal growth which causes discoloration, odor and degradation in paper and paperboard. This product is not cleared for use in the manufacture of paper and paperboard products that come in contact with food.

USE IN PAPER PRODUCTION

Product not registered for this use in California - (Optional) This product is used to inhibit fungal growth which causes discoloration, odor and degradation in paper and paperboard. This product is not cleared for use in the manufacture of paper and paperboard products that come in contact with food.

USE IN WOOD PRESERVATION (For Above Ground Use Only)

This product is used to inhibit fungal growth which causes discoloration, odor and degradation in paper and paperboard. This product is not cleared for use in the manufacture of paper and paperboard products that come in contact with food.

Add this product at a point in the production process where sufficient mixing will assure good suspension of the material as other ingredients are added.

USE IN WOOD PRESERVATION

Product not registered for this use in California - (Optional) This product is used to inhibit fungal growth which causes discoloration, odor and degradation in paper and paperboard. This product is not cleared for use in the manufacture of paper and paperboard products that come in contact with food.

USE IN PAPER PRODUCTION

Product not registered for this use in California - (Optional) This product is used to inhibit fungal growth which causes discoloration, odor and degradation in paper and paperboard. This product is not cleared for use in the manufacture of paper and paperboard products that come in contact with food.

USE IN WOOD PRESERVATION

Product not registered for this use in California - (Optional) This product is used to inhibit fungal growth which causes discoloration, odor and degradation in paper and paperboard. This product is not cleared for use in the manufacture of paper and paperboard products that come in contact with food.

USE IN PAPER PRODUCTION

Product not registered for this use in California - (Optional) This product is used to inhibit fungal growth which causes discoloration, odor and degradation in paper and paperboard. This product is not cleared for use in the manufacture of paper and paperboard products that come in contact with food.

USE IN WOOD PRESERVATION

Product not registered for this use in California - (Optional) This product is used to inhibit fungal growth which causes discoloration, odor and degradation in paper and paperboard. This product is not cleared for use in the manufacture of paper and paperboard products that come in contact with food.

USE IN PAPER PRODUCTION

Product not registered for this use in California - (Optional) This product is used to inhibit fungal growth which causes discoloration, odor and degradation in paper and paperboard. This product is not cleared for use in the manufacture of paper and paperboard products that come in contact with food.

USE IN WOOD PRESERVATION

Product not registered for this use in California - (Optional) This product is used to inhibit fungal growth which causes discoloration, odor and degradation in paper and paperboard. This product is not cleared for use in the manufacture of paper and paperboard products that come in contact with food.