STORAGE AND DISPOSAL

Storage: Never return this product to the original container after it has been removed. All containers, equipment, and systems associated with the use of peracetic acid must be cleaned thoroughly to prevent residual concentrations. This product is extremely pH sensitive and it is effective only at pH values in the range of 3.0–6.0. Failure to adequately clean equipment will result in the formation of toxic compounds such as hypochlorous acid.

Disposal: Peracetic acid and its by-products are toxic and hazardous. Peracetic acid is a strong oxidizing agent and can cause respiratory distress, irritation of the eyes and skin, and can be absorbed through the skin. Peracetic acid is also toxic to aquatic life. It is recommended that you follow label directions for proper disposal of unused or contaminated product. Contact your State Environmental Protection Agency or the local environmental agency for proper disposal methods.

This product must be stored in a cool, dry place. Do not store the product in direct sunlight. The product must be protected from freezing. Keep this product out of the reach of children, pets, and other animals.
